Dear Vestry Members,

After much thought and prayer, I have made the difficult decision to resign from the vestry. I have battled headaches my entire life, but in August I got a new kind of headache, and it just never went away. I started seeing a neurologist in September and was diagnosed with chronic migraine. We have tried a variety of medications and are still trying to find the right combination that will hopefully get things under control. But unfortunately, we're not there yet and I've realized that I need to let go of some of my responsibilities so that I can focus on my health and my family. I still have three kids at home, and I need to devote my remaining energy to them. My family will still be here at St. Martin's and I hope and pray that I will soon be feeling well enough to start volunteering around here again soon.

Sincerely,

Sharon Dudek
